

SEED COMMONS

A NATIONAL COMMUNITY WEALTH COOPERATIVE

25+

Local Peer Members

Seed Commons is a national network of locally-rooted, non-extractive loan funds that brings the power of big finance under community control. By taking guidance from the grassroots and sharing capital and resources to support local cooperative businesses, we are building the infrastructure necessary for a truly just, democratic and sustainable new economy.

Our community wealth cooperative gives the power of big finance to small, community-centered actors, creating a national network that makes local investments that serve people rather than extracting from them.

100+

Non-Extractive Loans

Seed Commons takes in investment as a single fund, then shares that capital for local deployment by and for communities, lowering risk while increasing impact. Seed Commons also shares backend services and a comprehensive, peer-based learning system to give each member the tools necessary to succeed—accessing capital like market players, yet deploying it using local community relationships.

Seed Commons is based on the model, experience and infrastructure of The Working World, who have been successfully investing in cooperative enterprises for 15 years.

$10+M

Invested Nationwide

Seed Commons channels investment to marginalized communities that have faced the brunt of the extractive economy, deindustrialization, and systemic discrimination, making community-controlled finance available to cooperatively-owned businesses that create jobs, build wealth, and challenge inequality.
